far-section 7.

Mr. George, a member of the commit-tee, regarded the bill, as far as it went, a good one—the best that could be framed under the constitutional power of Congress over commerce. But there were one or two powers of Congress which, he thought, might be exercised effectively in the direction of the suppression of trusts and combinations, but which the committee did not see that the committee of the suppression of trusts and combinations, but which the committee did not see proper to exer-cise. He should support the bill as re-ported, but might offer amendments looking to the exercise of these other powers.

Mr. Coke, a member of the committee, concurred in the bill as reported ex-cept that he would prefer the section referred to by Mr. Vest to be in a little different form.

The bill was then read, and Mr. Ed-

REPUBLICANS A UNIT.

The Majority of the Ways and Means

The story published in the Philadelphia Times this morning as a special from Washington, but which sounds very much like Colonel McClure and might have been written in the home office as readily as here, is denounced as absurd by the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee. Mr. McKenna of California said:

"The majority of the Ways and Means Committee are a unit in favor of the bill, and will urge and work and vote for its passage exactly as it will come from the committee. There is not a Republican on the committee who is opposed to it. Every one of them will give it his hearty support."

The Democrats on the committee have been graciously allowed ten days in which to kick, and the bill will be reported, discussed and passed.

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS

Attracting Much Attention on Both Sides at the Capitol.

The political situation in Pennsylvania is attracting much attention at the Capitol. The Democrats think they have a chance to win the Governorship if only they can confine the canvass to State issues. Ex-Senator Wallace has announced himself as a candidate for announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination, and ex-Speaker Randall, who formerly was bitterly opposed to him, is now heartily to favor of his candidacy. Ex-Congressman William L. Scott, alarmed at Mr. Randalls join-ing hands with Mr. Wallace, labored long with Congressman Mutchler trying to get him to enter the field for the to get him to enter the field for the nomination against Wallace. But Mr. Mutchler positively declined to do so. As matters now stand it is safe to say that the entire Pennsylvania Demo-cratic delegation in Congress will favor

Mr. Weliace. Ex-Governor Curtin is strongly in favor of Wallace. On the Republican side the candi-dates in the field for nomination are Messis. Delamater, Stone and Hast-ings. The latter is now Adjutant-General, and a move was made to shunt him off the Gubernatorial track by endeavoring to have him appointed to the newly-created office of Assistant Secretary of War. He has, however, Nebraska, who, in opening the discus-sion, made a forcible and telling speech | definitely declined to be considered in connection with that office. It would look too much like being bought off.

Senator Quay is generally credited with being friendly to Delamater, and it is claimed that his lieutenants are all working like beavers for that candidate. The Senator himself has said nothing as yet as to his personal choice to openly support a candidate and force his nomination would be disas-trous to him should that can-The Beaver statesman's repu for astuteness and sagacity would take a fatai fall. The committee recommends the ex-clusion of the statement of "sovereign, eternal and unconditional reprobation of any of God's creatures." approves a clear expression of belief that none dying in infancy shall eternally perish; disclaims the certain damnation of all the heathen world as part of the faith; desires the elimination of the mention of Roman Catholics as necessarily idol-atrous, and advocates the striking out of the assertion that the Pope of Rome is an anti-Christ. The committee recommends that the love of God and the missionary duty of the church be em-phasized in the Confession, and the adoption, in co-operation with other churches of a short creed not to displace the Confession, revised or unre-

COTTON LANDS DOOMED.

Mississippi's Waters Threaten Widespread and Dire Destruction, NEW YORK, April 2.- The Herabl's Vicksburg, Miss., special says: The situation of the overflowed districts becomes more and more alarming. The great Delta country, composed of the counties of Tunica, Coahoma, Bolivar, Washington, Suntlower, Leftore, Issa-quema, Shanke, and parts of Yazoo and Warren are in immediate danger of inundation. It is safe to say that 49,000 people, mostly negro immigrants from Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama, have settled there. In the last few years four different railroads have been built through this country, and traffic on them all is now at a standstill. It is conceded by all experienced persons that it is but a matter of a few days when the greater portion of this vast area of cotton land will be under water. Much loss of life has been reported from points near and immediately back of the various crevasses, and no doubt many people who settled on low land, remote from the railroads and river front, have found themselves unable to escape.

AN IDEAL RACING DAY AND A SUC-CESSFUL MEETING.

Prosperity of the Washington Jockey Club Assured Ladies Attend is Large Numbers - Enjoying the Drive Out-Gossip of the Track,

A prettier day for a race meeting than to day could scarcely be imagined, and the Washington Jockey Club profited thereby to a considerable extent. The air was warm, but there was just the faintest suggestion of chilliness about it to bring the color to the face and make the lively sport provided all the more exhibitating.

The moderated weather also had its effect on the attendance, for there was an increased number of spectators to witness the flyers. A large number of them were ladies. Many availed them selves of the pleasant weather to drive cut, and long before the racing com-menced the roads leading to Bennings were crowded with vehicles of all de-cription.

The card for the second day's racing was an excellent one, and the sport all that could be desired. The sun dried the track nicely and it was in excellent condition.

First Race.

In the first race, Little Monarch, the faverite, ran away when the horses came to the post and threw his jockey, Jones, injuring him quite severely. The horse ran a mile, and when he was caught was taken out of the race.

Sandy Brown, 103, Hill, 10 to 1 and Sandy Brown, 103, Hill, 10 to 1 and 8 to 1; San Jose, 103, Trainor, 5 to 2 and 4 to 5; Gipsy King, 103, Finnigan, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1; Roustabout, 114, Rodgers, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1; Trowsers, 114, F. Slack, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1; Parthian, 117, Ossler, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1; Bonita, 98, Griffin, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1; Consignee, 116, Meyers, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1; Consignee, 116, Meyers, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1. to 1. Griff Reed was scratched.

Parthlan won, leading from the start. At the quarter San Jose took the lead, but Parthian passed her in the stretch and won handily. San Jose obtained the place. The entries for the events are as fol lows:

Scond race, ? mile—Farstina, Infatuation, 90 each; Pall Mall, Lit-le Elle, Sophist, Blas, 95 each.

After the close of the report of The Chitic yesterday, which was the only

Carrie yesterday, which was the only paper to publish the result of the first race, the other events resulted as follows: Second race-Shotover won, Co. nelia second race—Shotover won, Cor-nelia second. Third race—Captain Wagener first. Coriolanus second. Fourth race—Peather first, La Clair second. Fifth race—Jim Murphy first, Bassanio second.

Notes of the Track, Starter Lee had considerable trouble in starting the horses in the second race. There was fully twenty break aways before the flyers got off to a very indifferent start. The stort in the first race was also poor, and Oaward very very nearly secured the race by a good lead at the start.

McCarty caught a $25 fine for delay ing the start in the second race. The favorites "fooled" their backers considerably yesterday.

Mr. Davis of the Davis & Hall stable in many respects superior to the old one The bookmakers did not win a barre of money yesterday. The losses and gains were about even, although had Murphy not secured the last race the "bookies" would have been way ahead.

The high rates for transportation, which caused Green Morris to keep his horses away, also had the same effect on the Dwyers. figure at the new track. He has not en-tirely recovered from his lameness, and still walks with a crutch.

TEPERS IN INDIANA.

Pather and hon Bupilessly Afflicted With the Dread Disease.

Excussi, Ixo., April 2.—There are at least two well defined cases of leprosy in this vicinity. The victims are father and son. The affliction is described as manifesting itself in white spots that sink below the adjacent surface. They are doubtless lepers, and if investiga-tion is made it is equally sure that other cases will come to light. One of the patients is well advanced in CRUTS.
